OL PEJETA BUSH CAMP

OL PEJETA CONSERVANCY

On the banks of the Ewaso Nyiro River in central Kenya's Laikipia region lies the atmospheric Ol Pejeta Bush Camp. Ol Pejeta offers an exceptional base from which to explore the secrets of this renowned conservancy – from the pioneering conservation projects that have made it famous to spectacular sightings of black and white rhino, the Big 5 and the world's last two remaining northern white rhino.
